Dear (Recipient),

B&G Aircraft is pleased to establish and appoint Airwings Logistics as a fully authorized representative for B&G Aircraft's services in the South East Asia region. We look forward to conducting mutually beneficial business with you.

B&G Aircraft offers a variety of routine and mission-critical services related to commercial, military and paramilitary aviation operators of both rotary and fixed-wing aircraft. Our unique experience, level of expertise and our worldwide contact network in these areas is unmatched. The two principals at B&G Aircraft have over 80 years of fixed and rotary wing aircraft experience between them. Both of the principals each hold the highest level of US government (FAA) individual certification for aircraft maintenance (FAA Inspection Authorization). The principals' combined piloting experience exceeds 25,000 hours of civil, commercial and military flight time. Both are decorated air combat veterans and have flown professionally in extensive flight operations around the world (civil and military). These decades of experience have resulted in B&G Aircraft having a worldwide network of personal and business contacts at the highest levels.

B&G Aircraft would like to make any or all of the following services available to Airwings Logistics:

- New and used OEM replacement parts for rotary wing and fixed wing aircraft
- New and used aftermarket parts and equipment upgrades
- Maintenance supplies, specialized maintenance/overhaul tools
- Aircraft repair and rigging fixtures and equipment
- Consumables, Rotables and Expendables
- Maintenance and repair personnel on specific aircraft types
- General maintenance and repair personnel and services
- Aircraft maintenance crew training (general and type-specific)
- Aircraft operations crew training (general and type-specific)
- Consulting on all areas of small and medium size aircraft operations

- Consulting on difficult, specialized or “sensitive” aircraft operations
- Flight crews for general or specialized aircraft and flight operations
- Flight crew training and transition into specific aircraft
- Aircraft delivery, aircraft disassembly and shipping
- Aircraft reassembly and setup after shipping

As an authorized representative for B&G Aircraft, you may approach your civil, military, or paramilitary customers and offer to provide them with any of the services we offer. As these services are numerous, and are very often are combined with others into “packaged” contracts, the cost and availability of these services shall be negotiated on the merits of each individual situation. B&G Aircraft is available to answer any questions or discuss our services in more detail at any time.

Sincerely,

(Customer #1)
